Letter of Recommendation

It is with immense pleasure and pride that I write this letter of recommendation for Amritendu Pakhira, a student of Computer Science and Engineering specializing in full stack development at Chitkara University.

I have had the privilege of knowing Amritendu for the past two years, and during this time, he has left an indelible impression on me with his impeccable character, unwavering integrity, and exceptional qualities as a student and as a person.

In my capacity as the Director of the University Readiness Academy—a specialized department that identifies the most gifted and talented students at Chitkara University, upskills them, and prepares them for placements with top corporate organizations in India & Overseas — I have had the unique opportunity to assess Amritendu's employability and professional readiness as well.

I find him to be an ideal culture and behavioral fit within any academic or corporate institution, thanks to his outstanding cultural sensitivity, collaborative spirit, sensitivity to diversity and inclusion, respect towards all religious and belief systems and his ability to blend seamlessly into diverse teams that are composed of various ethnicities.

Amritendu is a young man of high principles, exuding politeness and gentleness in his demeanor while demonstrating remarkable courage and steadfastness when standing up for truth and justice. He has consistently displayed exemplary leadership with compassion, particularly in team projects where his peers have relied on his guidance and support during challenging situations.
